CONCUSSION CERTIFICATION

Ohio Law requires ALL officials (even youth officials) be certified in concussion recognition. Please note that there is no liability to the official for failing to recognize a concussion, but officials still must be certified.

There's a short online course and "test" that can be taken for free – it takes about 30 minutes, which can be found at <http://nfhslearn.com/courses/61037/concussion-in-sports>. More information on this is provided in an e-mail to officials.
